

A radio station in Atlanta, GA located at 97.1 has started replaying other broadcasts from other cities in the US. This appears to have happened yesterday (Jan 31). There appears to be no identification of the call letters. The broadcasts includes information peculiar to other cities. This is confusing and frustrating to listeners in the Atlanta area. Is this activity within FCC regulations?